Best In The Business 2007 Recognizes Trinity Transport, Inc.

Seaford, DE – July 30, 2007 – Trinity Transport, Inc. took the top spot of Best In The Business in the medium business category by The News Journal. Trinity Transport, Inc., a third-party transportation intermediary arranging freight delivery for manufacturers and distributors throughout the United States, was recognized by the Delaware publication and also received a special award for community service.

“We are thrilled! Everyone here works hard everyday to live up to the values, beliefs and goals of the company while also making this a unique and special place to work,” said John S.C. Smith, Human Resources director, “Seeing that effort rewarded with the distinction of Best in the Business means we’re succeeding in those efforts.”

Sarah Ruffcorn, director for the Trinity Foundation, a non-profit organization set up by team members to organize their community service, stated, “Although we’re a business and it’s important to concentrate on the bottom line and numbers, our real focus is about serving and investing in people’s lives.”

“It’s just very refreshing to work somewhere where volunteering is encouraged and supported,” said Robin Tull, regional manager. This year, Trinity’s American Cancer Society Relay for Life team raised $17,600. And in April, the Trinity Foundation’s first gala brought in $15,000, which will go toward the youth leadership program, the American Cancer Society, St. Jude Children’s Hospital and other organizations employees want to support.
